

Coming Home to Saratoga

September 25, 2012

Mary Brown and Her Daughters Documentary Project

Hakone Gardens

1 to 4 p.m.

21000 Big Basin Way
Saratoga, California 95070

Free and open to the Let's go!

public

Afternoon Seminar

Sarah Brown (1846 – 1916) orchardist and teacher

Jean Libby, project director Allies for Freedom

Saratoga Properties

Then and Now

City of Saratoga

Mary Brown's Cabin Site Found!

What's Next?

Welcome recovery of Owen Brown's gravestone in Altadena
Family of Salmon Brown identified at Madronia Cemetery

Japanese American Contributions to California Agriculture

Dr. Rebecca Allen Northern California Cultural Resources Director, Environmental Science Associates

Research Sources: Tom Izu, Director,
California History Center at De Anza College, Cupertino

Japanese art found in Lucy Higgins' legacy: Manga and Suikoden

Randy Okamura, emcee

Lori Deal, descendant of Lucy Higgins, portrays Sarah Brown at the Cooper-Garrod Winery in Saratoga. Sarah learned Japanese to teach English to pioneer Japanese families and protested Asian discrimination laws.

Information: editor@alliesforfreedom.org;

650-327-8493 Jean Libby

云念公一行
访末姑末書
漢城